Hi s9(2)(a)

Two representatives from the Norwegian Correctional Services, involved in the management of terrorist Anders Breivik, will be visiting New Zealand as guests of the Department of Corrections between 3 and 11 May 2019. s9(2)(a) at Telemark Prison, and s9(2)(a) will arrive in Auckland this Friday. s9(2)(a) will share the benefit of their experience in working through the many complex issues involved in managing a high profile offender involved in significant mass casualty offending. Their knowledge and insights are likely to prove highly valuable in helping us to address some of the challenges we face in managing a specific individual.

More details on the visit will be provided in this week's Minister's Weekly Report.

Many thanks

Visit of Norwegian Delegation

Two senior representatives from the Norwegian Correctional Services will be visiting New Zealand as guests of Corrections from 3 – 11 May 2019. [REDACTED] s9(2)(a) at Telemark prison, and [REDACTED] s9(2)(a), have both had significant involvement in the management and oversight of Anders Behring Breivik, a Norwegian far-right terrorist who was convicted of committing 'lone wolf' domestic terrorist attacks in Norway in July 2011 in which 77 people were killed and many hundreds injured. [REDACTED] s9(2)(a) and [REDACTED] s9(2)(a) will meet with a number of managers and staff responsible for the management of Brenton Tarrant who is accused of the mass casualty event in Christchurch on 15 March 2019. The knowledge and insights of our visitors, and learnings over the last eight years, will be invaluable in supporting Corrections' thinking in managing the challenges ahead.
